

We do an $N*N/2$ backwards sweep over the words looking for the longest match. For the sweep we anchor the end and move the start forwards towards the end. If we find nothing, we bring the end back towards the start and repeat the process until the end becomes the start.